Description

Launched in January 2017, CUNY Techworks is a US Department of Labor federally funded initiative of CUNY's Office of Continuing Education and Workforce Programs (CEWP). CUNY TechWorks' is to connect underrepresented and low-income New Yorkers to the growing number of opportunities in New York City's thriving tech sector via no-cost, applied skills education and training in tech areas including, but not limited to the following:

• Software application development

• Web design and development

• IT systems administration

For more information, contact Nakisha Evans, Director of Office of Workforce Partnerships.

HAS THIS PROGRAM BEEN SUSPENDED DUE TO COVID-19? Due to COVID-19, in-person classes, meetings and appointments have been suspended or moved online. ABOUT CUNY: The City University of New York (CUNY) has 24 modern campuses spanning the five boroughs of New York, including; Senior Colleges, Community Colleges, and Graduate Schools.

Providing a quality, accessible education, regardless of background or means, has been CUNY's mission since 1847. Every year, hundreds of thousands of students – including a record 274,000 degree-credit students – choose The City University of New York for a multitude of reasons that can be summed up as one: opportunity.

The University's seven community colleges provide a high-quality education through associate degree programs that prepare students for transfer to senior colleges or entry into professional careers. The CUNY Graduate Center offers more than 30 doctoral programs. CUNY School of Public Health and Health Policy, a collaboration of four CUNY institutions, offers master's and doctoral degrees. The CUNY School of Law is recognized as the nation's premier public-interest law school.
